

1:60 SCALE CARDSTOCK MODEL KIT

BARRACKS PROPS

PARTS MANIFEST

DOUBLE BUNKS

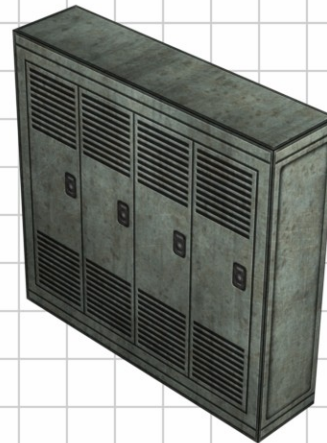

SINGLE BUNKS

LOCKER VARIANT 1

LOCKER VARIANT 2

AMBIENT ELEMENTS

PARTS MANIFEST

2 STYLES OF DESK

2 STYLES OF TABLE

CHAIRS

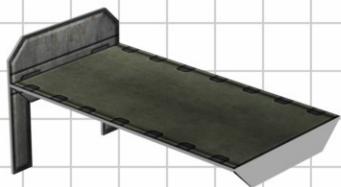

The furniture and equipment in this set can be used to create barracks, crew quarters, their adjoining common areas, or combined with other prop sets to create different kinds of rooms.

The tables and desks come in both a blank variant and a variant with alternate work surface texturing, and the notebooks come in 6 display variants.

AMBIENT ELEMENTS

ASSEMBLY INSTRUCTIONS

SINGLE BUNKS

The single bunk is composed of two short bunk frame pieces and a bunk mattress piece. All of these parts are simple flat fold-overs. The bunk mattress pieces have two tabs at the end that should be folded down so that the unprinted sides face outwards.

1. Glue a bunk mattress piece to a short bunk frame piece as shown to the left.

2. Next, glue another short bunk frame piece to the other end of the bunk mattress piece.

ASSEMBLY INSTRUCTIONS

SINGLE BUNKS, CONTINUED

The bunk dressing pieces come in 5 different colors: rust red, olive drab, light tan, light gray, and blue-gray.

3. Fold down the edges of the bunk dressing piece and glue it to the top of the bunk mattress as shown to the left.

DOUBLE BUNKS

The double bunks are composed of the same parts as the single bunks, except their bunk frame pieces are taller.

1. Glue two bunk mattress pieces to a tall bunk frame piece as shown to the left.

ASSEMBLY INSTRUCTIONS

DOUBLE BUNKS, CONTINUED

2. Glue the other tall bunk frame piece to the other side of the bunk mattress pieces as shown to the left.

3. Fold down the edges of two bunk dressing pieces and glue them to the top of each bunk mattress piece, as shown to the left.

ASSEMBLY INSTRUCTIONS

LOCKERS, TYPE 1

The lockers are simple box shapes, and fold up as shown to the left.

LOCKERS, TYPE 2

Identical to the above locker, except wider.

ASSEMBLY INSTRUCTIONS

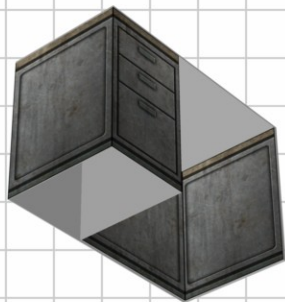

TABLES

The tables are composed of two parts: a simple fold-over table top piece, and an accordion-fold leg piece. The leg piece is a single strip that folds up into an X shape, and is edge-glued to the bottom of the table top piece as shown to the left.

The image to the left shows a completed table from above.

ASSEMBLY INSTRUCTIONS

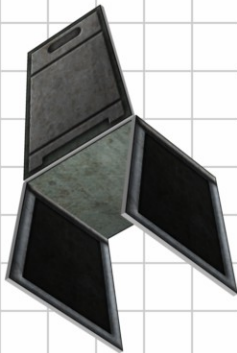

DESKS

The desks are one-piece open volumes. The long strip at the bottom folds up as shown to the left, and then the top of the desk is folded down and glued into place.

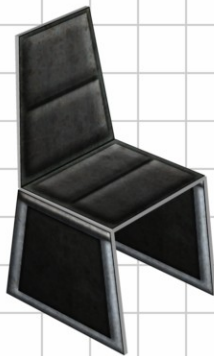

The image to the left shows a completed desk from above.

ASSEMBLY INSTRUCTIONS

CHAIRS

The chairs are one-piece items, with the legs and backs being composed of fold-over areas. The legs are folded up and glued together first, then the tabs at the top of the legs are glued to the unprinted bottom of the seat. The back of the chair is folded down and glued into place, and the final step is to hide the unprinted side of the seat bottom by folding up the last flap and gluing it into place.

The image to the left shows a completed chair from above.

ASSEMBLY INSTRUCTIONS

PERSONAL NOTEBOOKS

The notebooks are a single fold-over strip. This strip is folded in half first and glued together, then formed into the L shape shown to the left.

6 display variants are included: a blank screen for powered down notebooks, a generic desktop as shown to the left, and four variations of wallpaper and applications for the sake of variety.

The image to the left shows a completed notebook from below.